Administration Seeks

to Serve All

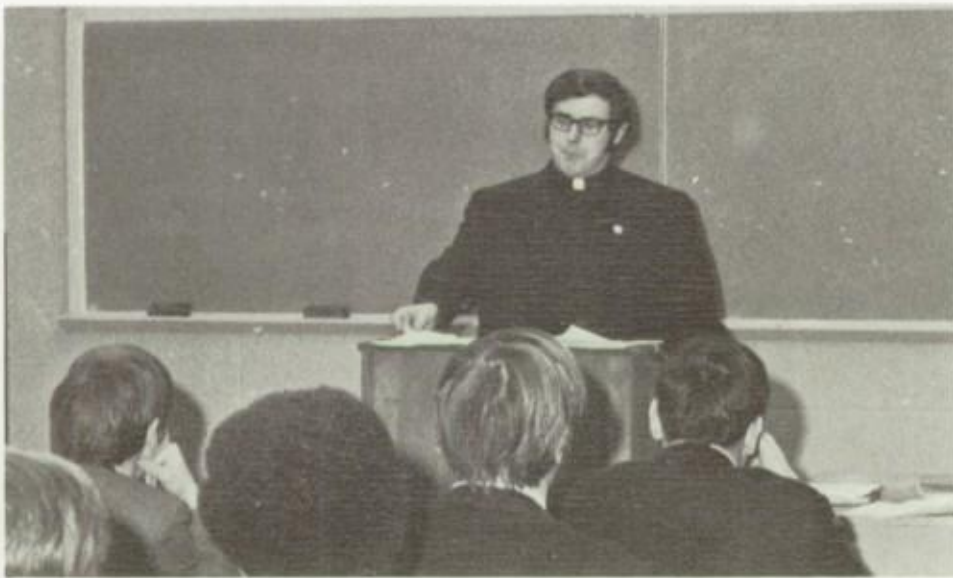

Mr. Richard Mattingly, Vice-Principal.

In every institution there exists a body which must exert control over its affairs and constituents. This is the Administration. At St. Francis this responsibility is invested in and ably handled by: Fr. Robert Healy, principal, with; Fr. Richard McLernan and Mr. Richard Mattingly, vice principals. The duties of their offices range from the concreteness of finances to the abstractness of student spiritual life. And, although the brunt of criticism concerning the state of the school falls on these men's shoulders, remember, in the words of Fr. McLernan, "That was my first mistake."

Religion: Challenge

to Live,
to Grow

A major goal of St. Francis is to prepare its students to live in a society which constantly challenges their basic moral beliefs. To succeed in the world today, a person must have more than a superficial understanding of his religion. The faculty here at St. Francis is dedicated to help students find where they are and how Christian ideals come into play in their life. In religion class the greatest knowledge of all can be sought and, hopefully, attained. This knowledge concerns one's personal relationship with God and other people.

Fr. McMenemy: English III, German III.

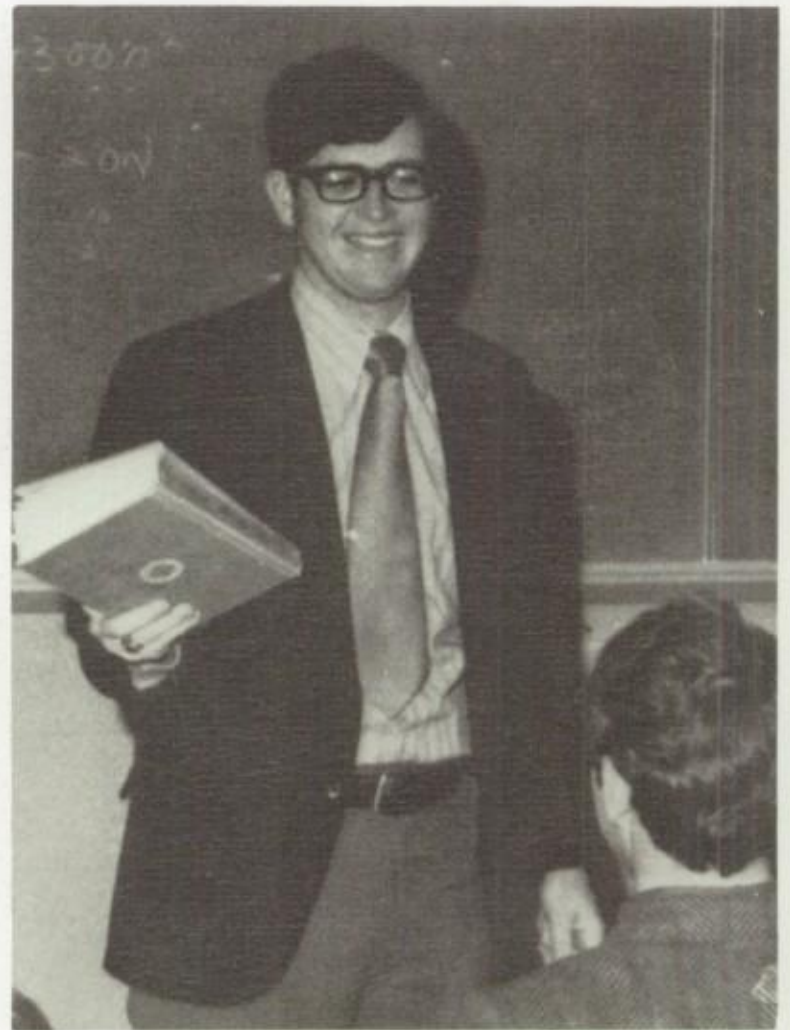

S.F.S. students learn to value the written word in literature through the efforts of well-developed English department. Teachers strive to instill in their students an appreciation of their literary heritage, an awareness of the modern uses of our language and a firm foundation in literary values. Not only does the student learn to value the well-written word but he also realizes that good grammar is essential to the expression of ideas and statements. Application of specialized techniques is attempted in the student's own creative writings, while research into great plays and their unique authors opens yet another phase of the English program.

Fr. Chrzanowski: English III.

Math: A Function of Analysis and Logic

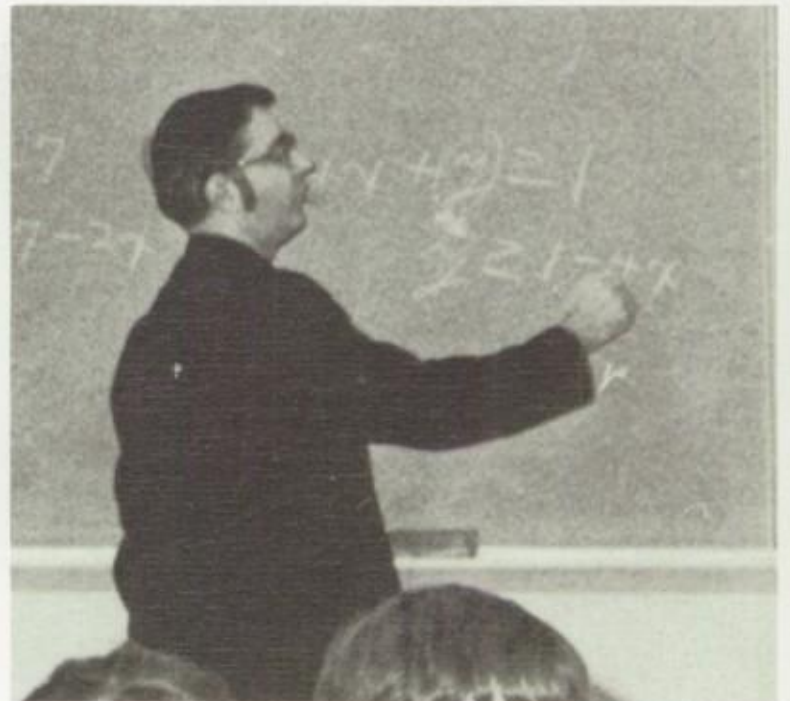

One thing all students at St. Francis have in common is math. No matter whether you are a freshman or a senior, your plight is the same. Everyday as you walk into math class, you find yourself deluged by undecipherable equations and formulae. Class after class, the pieces seem to fit together and by test time a semi-coherent idea of the material exists in your mind. Before you even get a chance to wonder whether you passed or failed, the next class presents an even more complicated problem in the next chapter. While students continue to ask questions and teachers continue to reach into their vast mental stores for the answers, math remains the same, difficult.

Science Provides

Physical World

The lab is quiet. The only signs of the activity which occurred during the day lie now as remnants, scattered across desks, floor and board. Chipped beakers, rusty ring stands, half-erased equations, dirty test tubes, nearly dissected frogs, and rising yeast — are all stepping stones to scientific understanding of our world. In our laboratories, Knights explore vast new horizons through practical experience.

History Examines Change, Continuity in Man's Political Life

To achieve a sense of historical background so necessary for the modern man to find himself, Social Studies courses are offered. This aspect of the curriculum has matured and is no longer simply endless lists of names, dates and places to be memorized. The goal of this department has shifted and now emphasis is on a firm understanding of the events which shape the course of mankind. With this understanding the Knights of St. Francis are prepared to meet the question of where man is going, secure in the knowledge that he will be capable to face that challenge of the future.

Languages Develop Cultural, Linguistic Appreciation

The room which houses the study of foreign language is a mental gymnasium. It is here where students flex the muscles of their minds to master a second language. The barbells of this gymnasium range from declensions to conjugations. Just as physical dexterity is achieved in gym so is mental acuity achieved in language class by finding exactly the right idiom to express one's view clearly. Though the benefits of gym class may give way to beer bellies of the future, the benefits of a foreign language will live on in the student indefinitely.

Advanced Courses Offer Greater

Challenge to Students

A day in the life of a student who takes advanced courses can't be all that bad. In first period calculus, exciting derivatives and integrals, along with Fr. Finn's humorous quips make the hour speed right by. Frequent heated discussions (about anything) make the participants in Mr. Gavin's English class lose all track of time. During the last periods, the chemists and biologists converge on the basement. Fathers Landgraff and Ebenhoeh have devised ingenious experiments, which there never seems to be enough time to complete. These advance placement courses besides causing the day to scurry by more importantly prepare students for their upcoming role as a college student.

Practicality Invades the Abstract

To climb the last five feet of rope.
To type the unreadable scroll.
To draw with one-point perspective.
To park where the brave dare not go.

This is our quest as practicality invades the abstract part of our minds and swirls in our intelligence to teach our bodies
what our minds can only envision.
For Mr. Wozniak's proteges the quest is to master mind-over-machine with a minimal amount of damage. In Mechanical Drawing and Art, students learn that cameras aren't the only things that make pictures. Typing demands exactness and/or a good eraser. And in Gym the Knights test their strength, stamina, and deodorant under the demanding eye of Mr. Kubacki.

One vital aspect of any college preparatory school is the Guidance Department. Under the direction of Father John McMenemy, Saint Francis has one of which it can be proud. Every resource is utilized to prepare the student for choosing both a college and vocation. Books, brochures, the College View Deck, the Admission's Search Kit and expert counseling by Father McMenemy and Mr. Don Wyper guide our perplexed young men through the tangle of admission, registration, financial assistance and all the other technicalities of approaching college life. For the underclassmen, Fathers Finn and McLernan keep high school life on an even keel by the schedule and course manipulation necessary for the well rounded curriculum Saint Francis is noted for.

Staff Keeps All Running Well

Year in and year out, the members of the office staff and maintenance crew remain the unsung heroes of day to day existence. These underrated people, working quietly in the background, complement the entire faculty by providing an atmosphere of cleanliness and efficiency, necessary in an institution such as St. Francis. It is with sincere appreciation that the Knights of de Sales recognize them for their tireless efforts, the trademark of their dedication over the years.

Features Prehistoric Panorama

On Friday, September 24, those who entered the St. Francis gym weren't quite sure whether it was 1971 A.D. or 1971 B.C. After passing through a cave to get inside, they found themselves amid trees, tiny dinosaurs, and a huge volcano, which threatened to erupt at any minute. This was an appropriate setting for the Knights' annual Homecoming dance, since the theme for the dance was "B.C.", the famous cartoon strip. Inside this prehistoric panorama the Knights and their dates dance to the music of "Knife", a brilliant rock group, while "B.C." and his cartoon pals watched from the walls of the gym. Near the end of the evening, John Sturtz announced that the 1971 Homecoming Queen was Marcia Perdeau, a senior from Saint Ursula. Father Healy placed a crown on the new queen's head and gave her a congratulatory kiss. The dancing resumed, and all agreed that this was truly a Homecoming to remember.

Bolster Homecoming Spirit

All during the week, all that was heard in the halls of Saint Francis was the cry "B.C." The Spirit Committee's many signs in the cafeteria and in the halls helped push Knight enthusiasm. Those who drove by the school on Bancroft Street could see a huge "Beat Central" sign, which hung from the windows of the school. This sign, the work of some spirited seniors, was a symbol of Knight pride. On Saturday night, a rally was held in our gym to focus all the spirit on the game Sunday. The spirit ran high, as various cries to kill Central were chanted. Coach Mattingly and a few senior football players gave their expert opinions of the game, much to the excitement of the small but noisy crowd.

The band forms an integral part of homecoming festivities.

Irish Ruse Successful, Capture Irish Knight

Before the game, the Knights gathered in the S.F.S. parking lot. Many assorted floats and a loudly cheering mob of Knights assembled for the annual parade to T.U. Once there, they did not have to wait very long for something to cheer about. Early in the first quarter, Herman Price broke loose on a forty yard touchdown run through the Irish defense. Bob O'Donnell kicked the extra point and the Knights led the Irish 7-0 in the battle for the Irish-Knight. Central came back when they scored on a long passplay in the second quarter. They then faked a kick and passed for two points to take a 8-7 lead. The game settled down to a defensive struggle with neither team scoring again, and the Knights lost the Irish-Knight to their rivals on Cherry Street.

Harriers Sprint to Victorious Season

If you think the only type of athletic competition occurring in the fall is football, never voice this erroneous belief to one of the members of the S.F.S. Cross Country Team. These young men would rather ramble through the wilds of nature than to concern themselves with first downs, field goals and blitzes. The 1971 edition of the cross country team feature Mike McGrane who was ably supported by a host of talented underclassmen. Coach Yost's squad attained a 10-4 record, one of the finest in the history of St. Francis.

Spirit Committee, Cheerleaders Promote Knight Pride

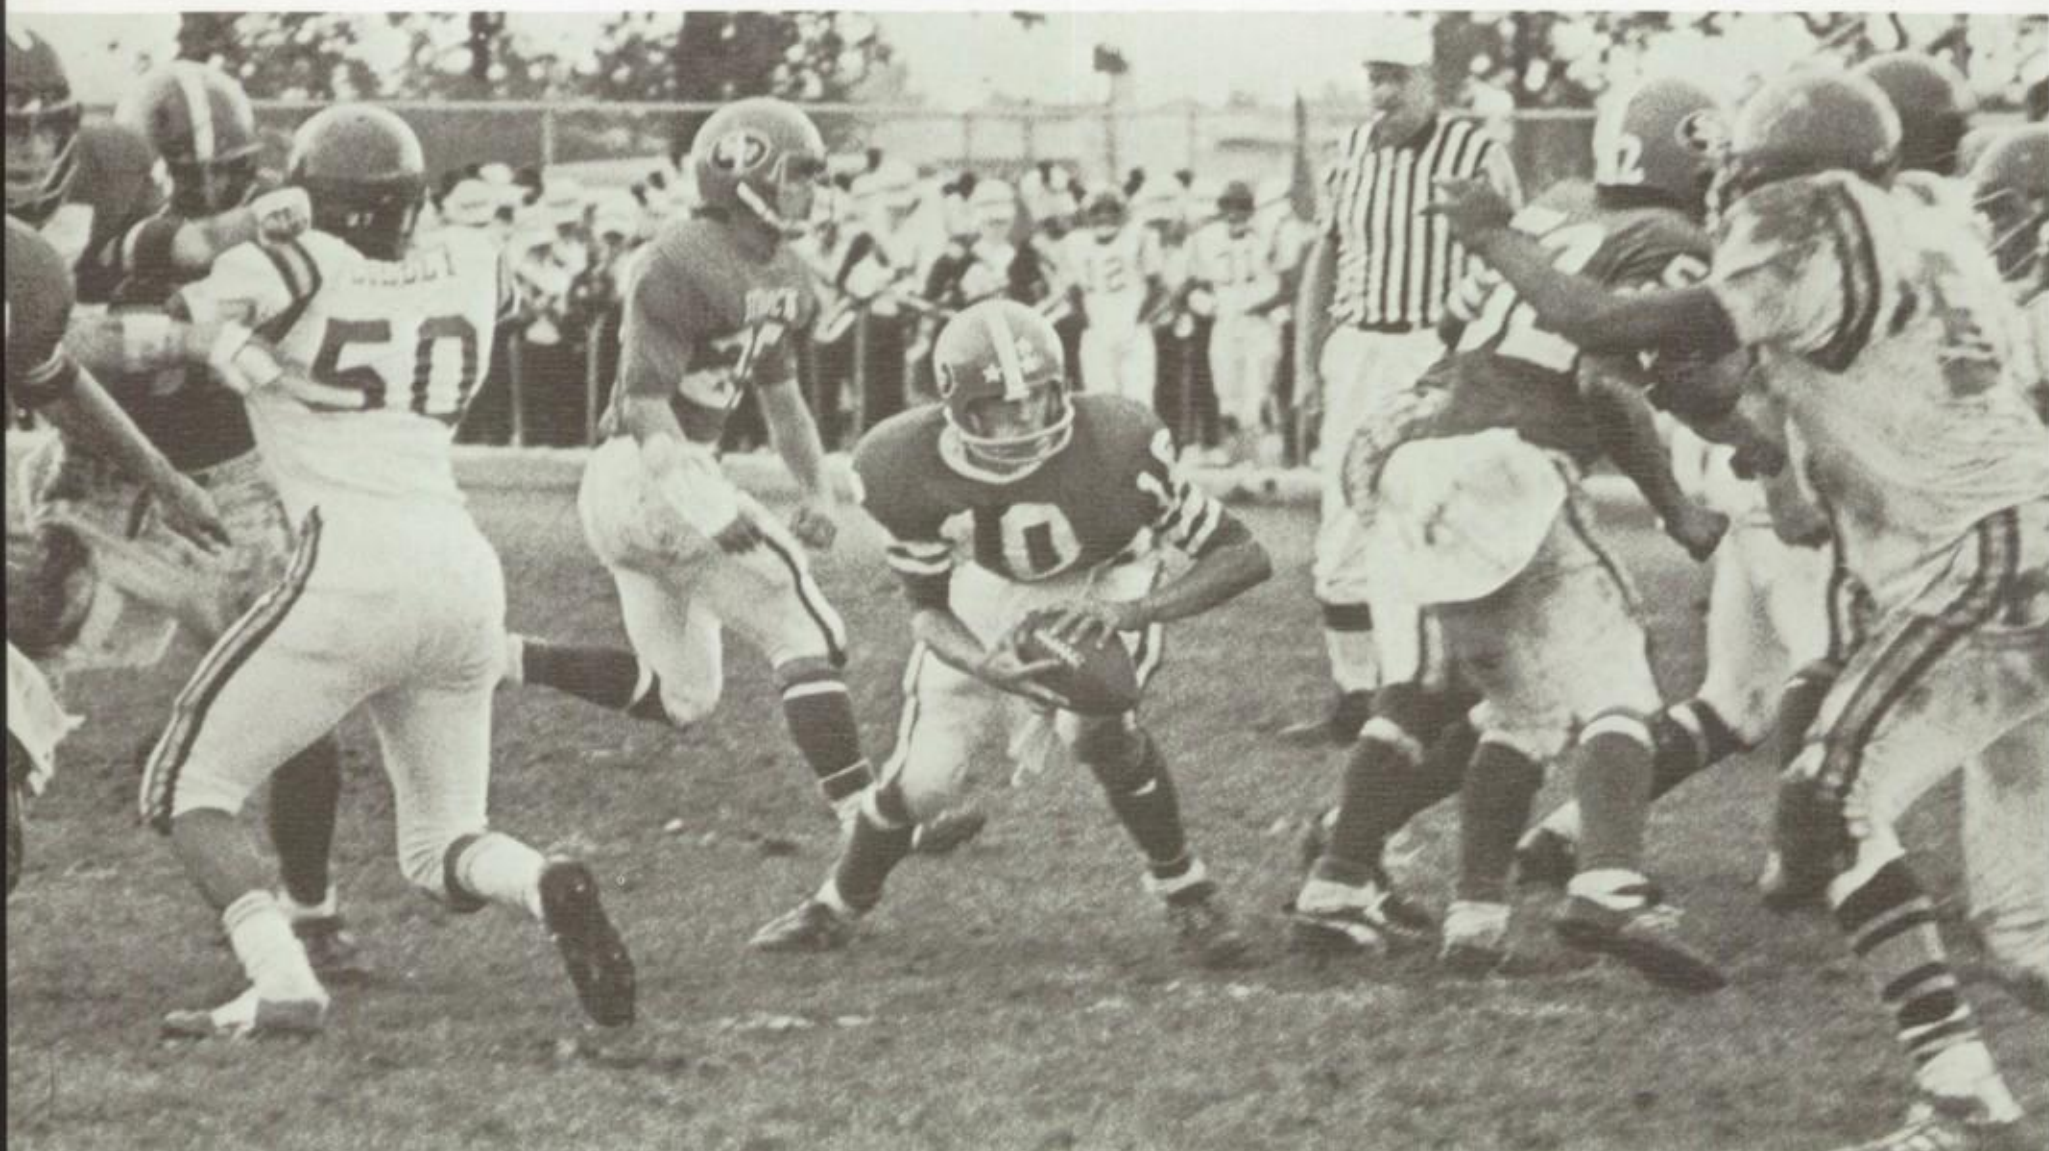

Dauntless defenders of Knight pride describes well the role of the S.F.S. Cheerleaders. These young ladies lead the spectator Knights in vocal aggression besides adding a bit of color to our athletic endeavors. These girls though, are not alone in arousing Knight Spirit, for the Spirit Committee has also undertaken this task. The Spirit Committee psyches both the team and student body with descriptive visual attacks on the enemy. With the aid of both the Cheerleaders and the Spirit Committee the Knight are always ready for their upcoming foe.

Knights Victorious in

Midseason Battles

A powerful running game and an awesome defense characterized the S.F.S. Knights during mid season of 1971. The Knights, employing their "Brick Wall Defense," smothered Libbey and Start in early league play. The Knight machine never looked stronger as it rolled on to meet state-power Woodward. Then, on October 17, in Devilbiss' Page Stadium, the highly-spirited Knights devastated the mighty Bears. A dazzling offense and a granite defense proved to be too much for a shocked Woodward team. The City League realized that we were the team to beat; and it didn't seem like we could be stopped . . .

Band: Worthy of Note

Many activities come and go throughout the school year, but one that never fades is the band. The band is the backbone of the pride at St. Francis. It's members are always there to tie the student body together when enthusiasm sags. They continue to show their class at various concerts and culminate their efforts in the presentation of "Blues on Parade". This year the band is overflowing with interested underclassmen, but under the able leadership and direction of Mr. Zapletal and Fr. On a bleak Thursday afternoon a disbelieving crowd of twenty-five-plus saw Sottek's Caeserean Section romp over a heavily favored Sr. 105. Paul "Warfield" Chwialkowski dazzled a shocked senior defense and gathered in all the junior points. And they said it couldn't be done . . . In the third annual Popcorn Bowl, the sophomores continued their dominance over the young freshmen. This time it was the Biological Stench who enjoyed the post-game festivities.

The comedy smash hit of Broadway became the hit of the "Pit" on October 21, 22, and 23, as the St. Francis drama department presented "The Odd Couple". The relatively small cast was magnificent under the superb direction of Mr. Eugene Antoszewski. The play was hilarious with John McGowan and Jay Nussel portraying Felix Unger and Oscar Madison, two diverse characters sharing housekeeping responsibilities in their small apartment. The supporting cast of Kathy Shea and Debbie Gebolys from St. Ursula, and John Seguin, Jim Loeffler, Greg Hite and Chris Burkhardt from St. Francis was also very humorous. The Lance may not be recognized for the role it plays at St. Francis, but it is an important and exciting part of every Knight's scholastic life. This is especially visible during those chaotic last periods before it is distributed. Students become reckless, teachers panicky, and editor Jim Morrissey, in the middle of it all, relieved. As editor-in-chief, Jim directs the entire operation with the skill worthy of a professional. He is not alone, however. Assistant editors Jon Lawniczak and John Lawton help tremendously by adding imagination, humor and the expertise needed in such a publication.

Assemblies Call for Variety,

Student Unity

Both students and faculty look forward to assemblies, which help relieve the monotony of everyday school life. Periodically the entire school congregates, hopefully orderly, in the gym for some special event. When the call comes for the students to go down to the gym, the faculty is amazed at how fast the students can move when motivated correctly. Although the reasons for the assemblies vary, they help to unify the student body. Whether it be a rally with cries of "Kill!" or a Mass with pleas for peace, assemblies are a varied and vital part of the life at Saint Francis.

Knights Finish 5-3-1

A victory over Waite would almost insure a Thanksgiving date for the Shoe. Hopes ran high but luck, the breaks, and the final score did not lie in our favor. Against Stritch, cold and wet conditions slowed both offenses to a standstill and that's how it ended, 0-0. The St. John's game, though meaningless in the standings, was a matter of pride to both teams. The highly-spirited Titans were no match to the real machine. The Knights, led by their defense, shut out five of six city league opponents, and finished with a respectable but somewhat disappointing 5-3-1 record.

Tough Early Season

With the basketball season came another chance to show the city that the Knights were tough. The 1971-72 campaign opened with the "traditional" victory over Cardinal Stritch. The team showed promise but the real test would be Central. In a packed Roger's fieldhouse, the young Knights shocked a powerful Irish team by exhibiting a strong offense and steady defense. When the clock ran out, the scores were the same. Overtime was a fiasco for the roundballers who just could not hold together in the face of a determined Central assault. That night, though, St. Francis gained respect in City League Basketball. The next few games saw some exciting and some disappointing encounters. There was a valiant stand against powerful Scott, but the Knights were bounced off the court by Delphos St. John's. It was an exciting start, but only the beginning.

It seems that every year the numerous fund raising activities get bigger and better, and a special thanks must go out to those people who have generously contributed their time and efforts to these organizations. The continuing success of the Golden Knight Ball, Funarama, and the various other money-making drives is vital to Saint Francis, and the responsibility could not rest in better hands.

In addition to Navarre and Hallauer, Seniors Bob Eddy, Fred Johnson, Steve DeNies, and juniors Geoff Zann and Tim Rogers, will be strong contenders in the Sectionals. Up from the freshman team are Jim Conrad and Joe Restivo. Although graduation took its toll of talent, superb replacements have been found. With the experience, speed and depth that the SFS swimmers now have, 1971-72 should prove to be a vintage year for the "Swamp."

Grapplers Crush Opponents' Hopes

There may have been some doubt as to the ability of the St. Francis grapplers at the beginning of the season. But all uncertainty was eradicated when the Knights pinned Start for their 100th straight dual meet victory. The matmen's next victim was a strong team from Central, boosting the string to 101. And then there was the match of the century, at least in the eyes of the Rogers Rams. The Knights will be stopped before 102, they said. The rambunctious Rams were mistaken. The Knights rose to the occasion and when the smoke had cleared, and the Rogers blood drained away, the St. Francis Knights stalked away with a final score of 36 to 18.

"Is this a puck I see before me, slithering into the net behind me?" This was the cry of goalie Dan Gonzales all too often this year. In a more serious vain, the 1972 Knight icemen displayed great courage in going against some extremely tough competition from various teams from the area. Without much student support, Coach Yost's puck-pushers played a very spirited game, indicative of the short tradition of SFS hockey. JV Sports: Big Effort, Little Glory

Before becoming varsity athletes, all young Knights must first polish their skills, and the best place to do that is on a JV team. Gaining valuable experience in actual game situations the JV players get the feel of high school competition without the pressures of large crowds. In order to insure many future winning seasons on the varsity, the JV coaches are responsible for developing future varsity players of excellent capabilities. They take raw talent and polish it, while usually managing to win quite a few games in the process, which helps the athlete gain a winning attitude. All in all, the JV teams continually keep producing future varsity stars.

Frosh Initiated into Tough Competition of High School Sports

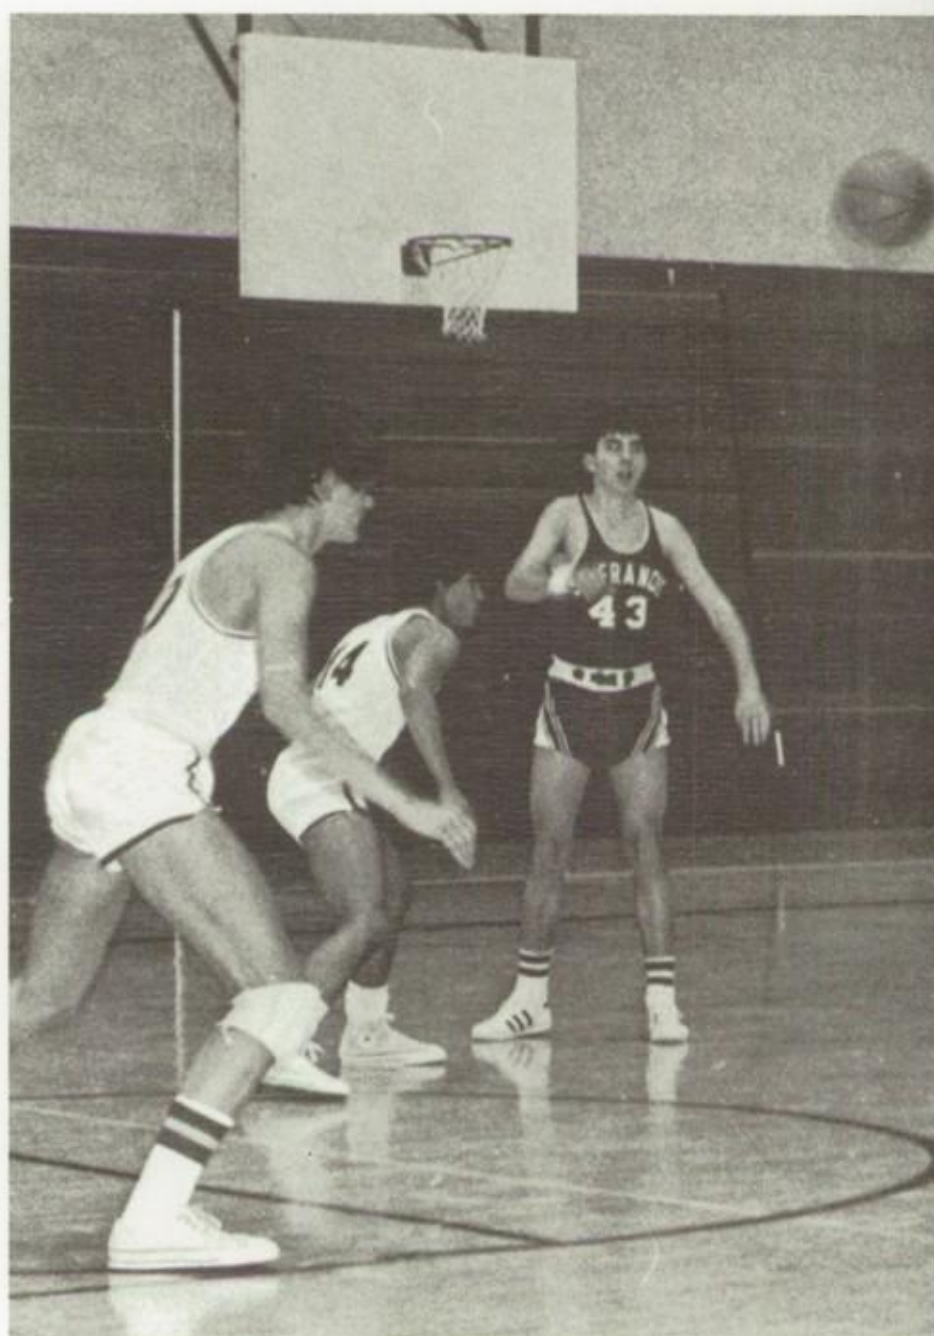

All athletes must start somewhere. The freshman teams at SFS are where future stars are born. The mini-Knights must learn the fundamentals of their respective sports, so that, once on the varsity, they will be ready to carry on the winning tradition of Saint Francis. Whether it be swimming, wrestling, football, or basketball, the mini-Knights showed much promise of good things to come.

Everyone has played a casual game of basketball at one time or another. But not too many have played intramural basketball here at SFS and lived to tell about it. The word casual is virtually unheard of around the gym, better know as the War Zone of Friday afternoons. For the Juniors and Seniors all this healthy competition is in quest of the championship game with the faculty. The heavily-favored faculty features such attractions as Dandy Don Wyper and his half-court shots, Wrong Way Herbie and Father Sottek, a perennial favorite.

Chess:

Games of Wits

There are two teams at Saint Francis which very few people know much about. They are the Chess team and the Quiz Bowl team. Though receiving little recognition, these hard-working Knights truly represent their school well. The Chess team, moderated by Father Ebenhoeh, was highly successful. Led by Randy Andrzewski, they won numerous matches and out-dazzled their opponents with quick thinking and nimble fingers. Father Koelzer's quizzers did not fare quite as well, unfortunately. Captained by Rick Deak, the team showed early promise in pre-season scrimmages. In their match with Clay, however, the Knights were tripped up in a tight match in the waning seconds of the contest, despite a valiant effort.

Knight Keglers Bowl over Opposition

Every Wednesday afternoon at 3:00, University Lanes becomes the scene of mass confusion and cacophony. This means that the Intramural Bowlers have arrived. Amazingly, some of the amateur keglers actually manage to concentrate on bowling, that is, in between numerous snacks. Most of the time, however, Intramural Bowling just means a chance to vent many building frustrations, such as tests and term papers. The pin-busters do learn quite a bit of Math, since score are always added and re-added to insure winning tallies. Altogether, Intramural Bowling adds a change of pace to the usual home-room rivalries, since it is the only sport played in public view. It is also the only sport in which competition is almost entirely man to man. Intramural Bowling is surprisingly well organized, due to the great care taken by director Father Sotteck and Secretary Charles Schlembach, who keep track of the statistics.

Knight Cagers Struggle thru Difficult Season

Coach Jim Kubacki's roundballers once again showed their foes that the Knights do not get beaten easily. This year, against some of the toughest teams the city has seen in a long time, our B-ballers never gave up, and finished the season with a very respectable record. Despite some inexperience, the Knights overcame their difficulties. With a blend of seniors and underclassmen, the Knights lost some very close games. One can't help but look forward to next year, when the Knights should have the experience they lacked this year.

Funarama Registers Success

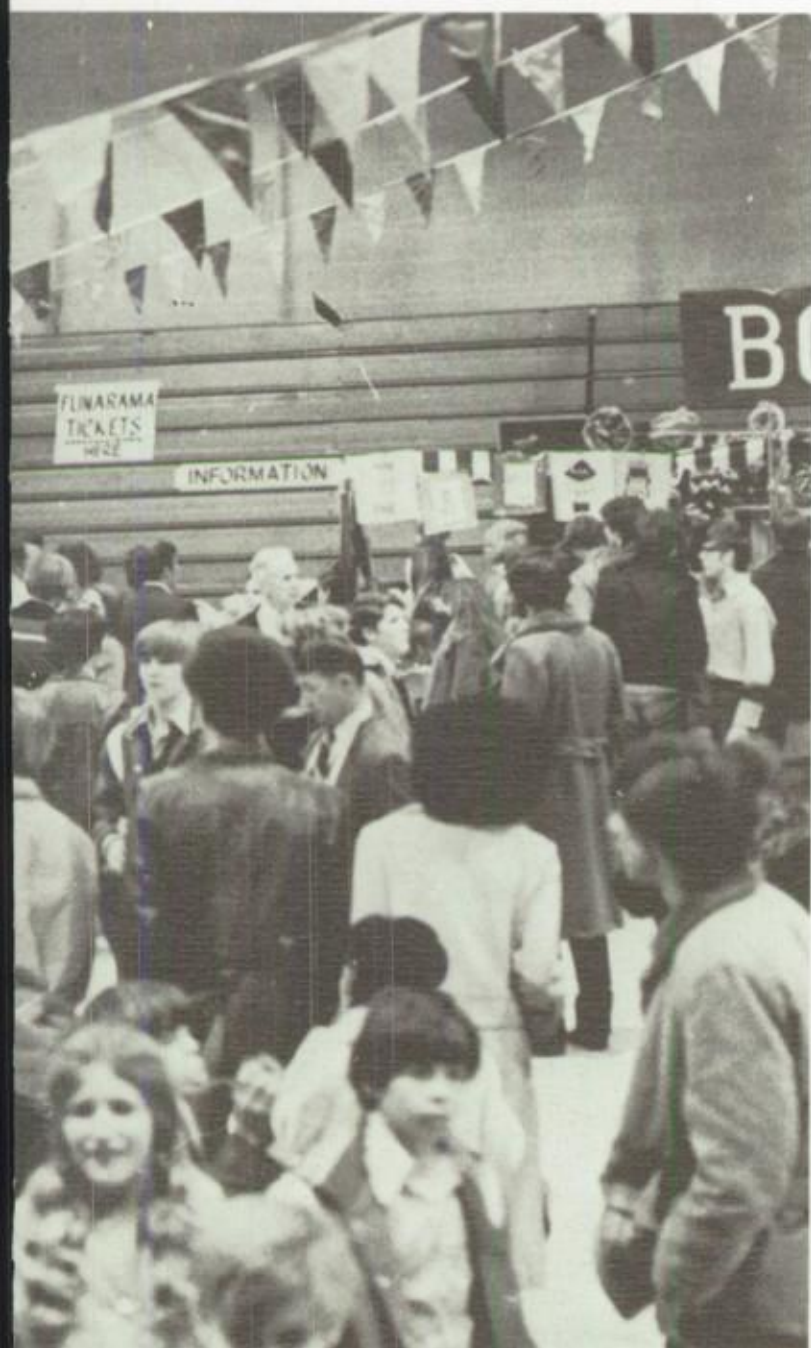

Once again, a contingent of funseekers converged on the Saint Francis gym for the annual Funarama. With the thought of winning that straw hat in mind, many spent their dimes and quarters at various skill testing games. Despite numerous boasts and attempts, most went away with a toy ring, some false teeth, or other such trivia. The more daring sought to augment their funds by chancing the various dice games, while the more sedate took refuge in the library bingo game. No matter which games were tried, and whether won or lost, the festive atmosphere provided all with a good time, while the profit taken in helped Saint Francis immensely.

Grapplers Extend Record to 107 - 0 - 0

The Knights once again proved to all that when the chips are down they show themselves to be true champions. Our wrestlers, supposed to have a "poor" year, were a fine example of what can be done with a little dedication and a lot of hard work. This was to be the year SFS lost it's first dual meet in quite some time. They rose to the occasion, winning them all and going over the century mark in consecutive victories. Led by Ron Soviar and Jeff Guyton, our grapplers finished second in the C.I.T. and made a fine showing in the city and state tournaments.

When it was all over, the Saint Francis splashers could look back on a satisfying and successful year. Despite the loss of team captain John Navarre, the team turned in another of its seemingly unending "usual" great seasons. Throughout the season, the Knights seemed untouchable in dual meets and tournaments. Once the state tournament began, the Knights were regarded as a top contender. Coach Ted Stickles can look back on this team with pride, knowing that they continued the great line of fine swim teams.

Student Council Encourages

Student Initiative

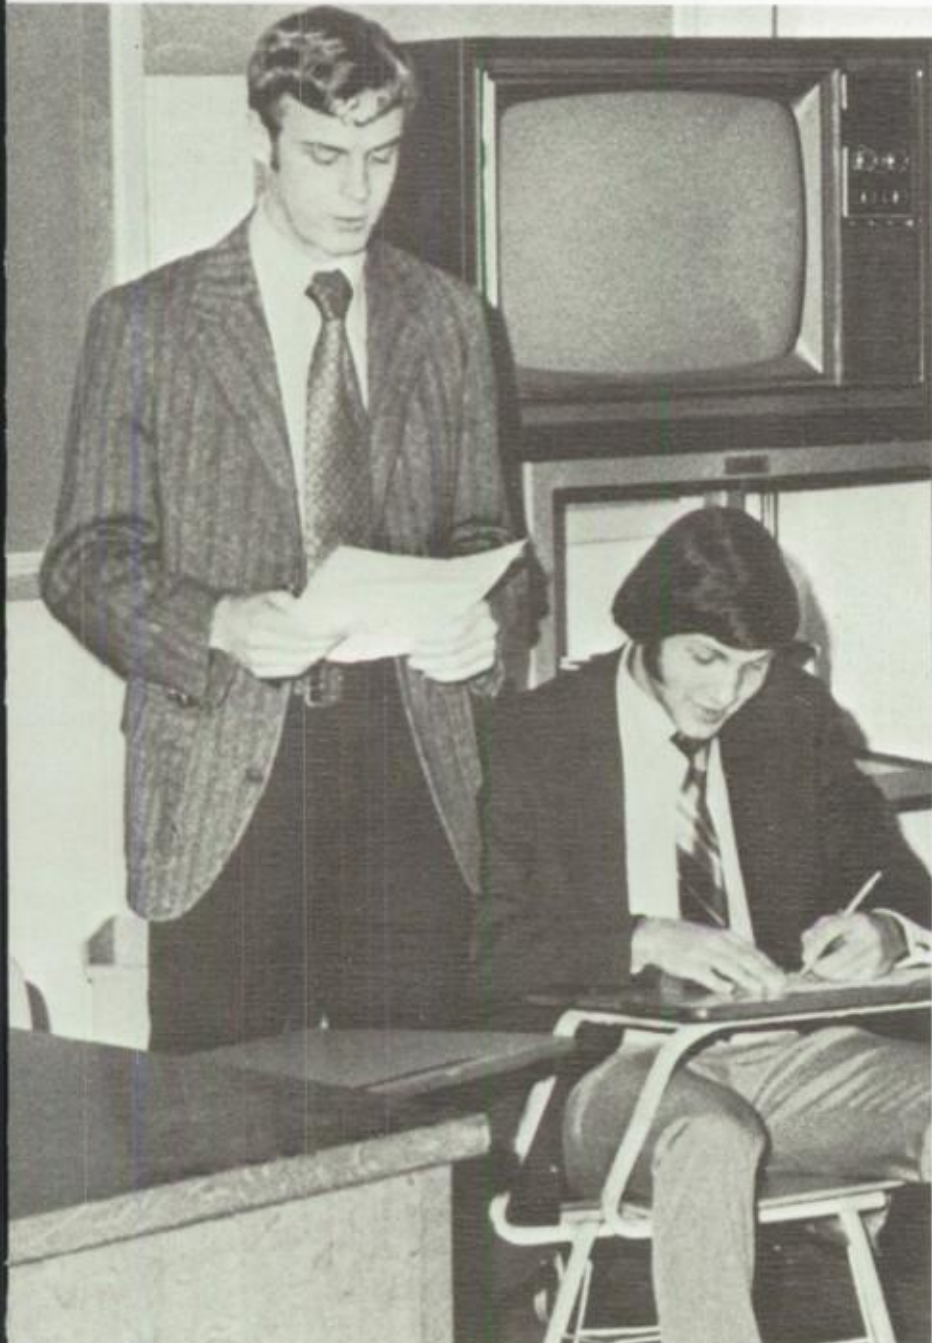

At St. Francis, Student Council once again voiced the majority's opinions and its resulting decisions. It built a firm background for the year's activities. Early in the year the St. Francis Student Council joined with St. John's to organize a very successful outdoor dance reflecting the hard work that went into all of its undertaking. Activities such as homecoming, the exchange program, hops, appeals for worthwhile causes, and changes in the operation of the school establish the character of its members. This is evidence of the foresighted, hard working determination of the Student Council officers.

Racqueteers Seek to Net City Title

The 1972 gang of Saint Francis tennis players forecasts to one and all an exciting year of racketeering. They plan to open fire on all the fierce competition and systematically dominate the city. Gang-leaders Marty Geiger, Scott Pease, Rick Deak, and Tom Bingle plan to rub out all resistance. Masterminded by the godfather himself, Coach Jim Ingham, who speaks easy of the mobs around the city, this year's organized tennis team promises to uphold the tradition of St. Francis tennis teams strong-arming all opposition.

Yearbook Team

Shows Hustle, Desire, Unity

The longest season of any team at Saint Francis belongs to the Accolade staff. Right from the start, Coach Herb "Bear" Belanger predicted great things from his talented team. Though lacking depth, the team more than made up for it with spirit, unity, and desire. Sometimes going at it for long hours on end, the pencil pushers and camera clickers worked in amazing unison, striving to put out the number one yearbook in Ohio. A complete team man, Captain Rick Deak declined to take much credit for the success of the team, but instead insisted on praising his teammates for fine picture blocking and great interference. When it was all over, their thesaurus and dictionary worn by constant use, the Accolade team looked back at the season, somewhat sad that it was over, but never to forget those biting publications room talks by Coach Belanger.

Ensure Golf Team of Excellent Season

The 1972 SFS golf team has six returning lettermen this year. Four fine senior lettermen are back for another year of trying to knock that elusive little white ball into that tiny hole. They are Jeff Myers and Fritz Reifert, both All-City last year, and Tim Jones and Mark Walters. Vince Marinelli, another senior, shows much promise. There are two returning junior lettermen to augment the above — Marshall Bennett and Mark Tincher. Last year proved a little disappointing, but provided much experience for a young team. With Coach "Dandy" Don Wyper leading the way, the Knights are expected to be a top contender in both the district and state tournaments.

to the Music''

Twinkle Toes Larry Hanley does his thing.

"Let's go to the hop!" was the familiar cry that colored the world of many Knights and their friends — female, naturally. For those that felt that one is the loneliest number, or needed some music to watch girls by, the weekend evening dances provided a great time at reasonable prices. To keep students from dancing in the streets, the hops were open to everyone, even gypsies, tramps, and thieves — provided, of course, that they were attired in a tie and a decent pair of pants. Once inside, the sounds of silence were shattered by the sound of music, and while underclassmen may have been a little uptight, having some trouble trying to dance to the music, the Seniors came completely undun and let it all hang out. The gym floor was generally so crowded that one had to share the land in order to twist and shout. Finally, at evenings end when all that remained was no time, there were chants of either "Let's dance on" or "I can't get no satisfaction." All these good vibrations were made possible by two members of good standing of Sergeant Pepper's Lonely Heart Club Band," the dance commissioners, Jack Brunner and Larry Hanley.

Dances are always a gala event at S.F.S.

Cindermen Sight Success

Coach Joe Sevenich's cindermen are a promising combination of speed, strength, and endurance. With many talented returnees from last year's fine squad, this one could prove to be one of the best in the city. With seniors Ron Soviar, Hans Anderson, Mike McGrane and Mark Main leading the way, and junior Fernando Crotte heading the underclassmen, our trackers are eyeing a city crown. Under the eagle eyes of Coaches Sevenich, McDermott, and Wozniak, our speedsters have been working very hard to realize the fruits of victory.

Experienced Team

Plans for

City Take - over

The cohort of young athletes that make up this year's baseball team is both talented and experienced. The "swinging" Knights, led by seniors Jim Gerken, Jim Korsnack, and Ken Smith, should be able to "walk" their way through city league competition and onto bigger and better things.

Coached by Jim Kubacki, the baseballers should once again make the most of their opponents mistakes. With a combination of good coaching, talent, experience, and depth, the Knights should "steal" quite a few ball games during the spring.

Musicmen Feature '76 Trombones

All the excitement of a Broadway musical filled the air during the first weekend in May. With 76 trombones leading the way, the Music Man came to SFS as the thespian Knights displayed their talents. The major roles were ably filled by John McGowan, Molly Wasserman, and Sarah Fisher, under the invaluable direction and assistance of Mr. Eugene Antoszewski and Mr. Robert Stucker. The fine performances turned in by the entire cast never failed to leave each audience thrilled and pleased, attributes which are fast becoming synonymous with Saint Francis musicals.

May 12, 1972, a Night to Remember

A prom is an event, and like any event it has its planning, preparations, frustrations and finally its realization. But the feature that causes it to be so important, so enduring and so immensely special transcends all these superficial structures that seemingly make a prom. The essence lies in the memory of the occasion and how it remains with the individual. For in everyone's prom there are moments to be cherished, those to laugh at, a few that are nostalgic and just to be enjoyed. It is a Magical Mystery Tour that one seldom takes time to imagine, where everyone looks and acts a little different but is still the same, where time flies by and stand still in the same instant and pleasant conversation with good company is the order of the evening. This, then is a prom, a time to be experienced and then remembered by all in his own perspective and this memory, when fixed, lives on and ferments through the years.

After Four Years Knights Prepare

to Begin Again

Steve Eby addresses the class of 1971.

The Commencement Exercise, is the culmination of four years as a Knight of St. Francis. A much anticipated event, graduation carries a wide variety of meanings to each participating senior. Each realizes that one era of life is ending while another is beginning. Challenged by the dream of new and exciting life, the future awaiting him has been influenced by the scope of his high school career. The education received has enriched not only the mind but has helped to shape a mature young man. It is the St. Francis education which has laid the foundation upon which a graduate can build for the future. The challenge of this future though, is tinged with the thought that what has gone before has changed each St. Francis graduate immeasurably.

Tradition Broken:

Class of '72 Receive Rings

During Junior Year

Tradition was altered on May 7, 1971 when the class of '72 received their senior class rings. The annual mass and breakfast was simply moved up a few months. The mass, held at St. Pius was also attended by the seniors' mothers who were invited to share in this important event. Following the service, everyone retired to Gladioux I and II for breakfast and pleasant conversation. After everything was all over, the butterflies, fidgeting with the new rings and finding out that everyone else had a mother too the Class of '72 began to walk a little prouder, with the knowledge that now they finally were seniors.

Mrs. Lorann displays a typical motherly expression.

Outstanding Men

The Accolade staff has singled out nine men of the class of 1972 which it feels have best exemplified the ideals of St. Francis. Rich Croll, Rick Deak, Steve DeNies, Bob Eddy, Tony Gonsiorowski, Jeff Guyton, John Nelson, John Sturtz, and John Seguin have attained distinction through achievement in various aspects of school life. Because of their industry and self sacrifice these individuals are true Knights in every respect and may well be considered Outstanding Men.

Bob Eddy and Jeff Guyton survey the situation.

Steve and John perfect their lab technique.

Tony and John head home after a long day.

John Nelson, John Seguin, Jeff Guyton, Rick Deak, Bob Eddy, Steve DeNies, Rich Croll, John Sturtz, and Tony Gonsiorowski.

John, Rich and Rick exercise the senior prerogative of leaving early.

To Allan,
How ya doing?
Mine, I hope you
took a terrific picture.

Hi Allan
(Mary O'Donnell)
Have fun over the summer

To a guy who I haven't seen in long time, but still like a whole lot!
Love Ya Allan,
even though you don't know me, I've heard alot about you. Stop laughing, settle down, grow your hair!
You shouldn't ask girls who Don't know you to go with you.
Bye
allan, we don't like that.
Mary

P.S.
Remember
me?

Bharathi
Jayanthe

To a really neat Guy Raul who I like alot (as friends)
Tell Kuehn I had "Hi"
See ya later

Hi Allen,
Here's life treatin' you? Remember what we were doing this time last year?
Tori
Boyle

To Allan,
A big joke where can I play basketball with a dammy? but who is a cke friend? Tell Mike I bet u sweat
Hi! Well can I sweat anything else? cause
the rest would only be bad stuff, cause you saw
girls! Hi! See ya, Ellen

Love Ya,
Cindy
Brown

(P.S. Hey kido
"going")

Alan,
Have you been
fuddy duddy boys?
come on over and play
your guitar again and come over in the summer we'll have another water fight. I.K.

See ya, Gu Ann
Tell goggles said "Hi!"
